

Countdown to Christmas III

#It's just ten days til Christmas... I hope my true love gives to me...

All my favorite pictures...#

How's that old song go? "Faded photographs. Covered now with lines and creases."

Seems the more important the picture, the more it gets handled and thus the more it shows signs of use. Makes sense but as time goes by, the damage done to the photograph and the natural aging of the picture as the colors fade will lessen the emotional heft of that stolen moment of time.

Photo restoration in the digital world is as simple as a few clicks of a button. Do not assume ever that a photo is ruined beyond repair because in all likelihood it can be brought back to its former glory.

A picture paints a thousand words. And it can keep on painting them onto the next generation... with a little digital help.
